

CHILD ABUSE

SAFETY AWARENESS TIPS

Child abuse is any act or failure to act on the part of a parent or caretaker which results in death, serious physical or emotional harm, sexual abuse or exploitation; or an act or failure to act which presents an imminent risk of serious harm.

DID YOU KNOW?

- In 2020, 13.5% of child abuse/neglect fatalities, CPS was involved with family or the child at time of death and 47.4% of child abuse/neglect fatalities, CPS had been involved with the child or perpetrator in the past. (DFPS, 2020 Annual Report)
- Out of the 251 confirmed Child Abuse Fatalities in 2020, 47.4% of them, Child Protective Services (CPS) had been involved with the child or the perpetrator in the past, 13.5 percent of the child abuse and neglect fatalities, CPS was involved with the family or the child at the time of the death. (DFPS, 2020 Annual Report)
- In 2020, 61 percent of child fatalities involved a parent/caregiver who reported active mental health concerns. This is a 51.5% increase from 2016 of parents/caregivers who reported active mental health concerns at the time of child fatalities. (DFPS, 2020 Annual Report)
- 10% of children will endure sexual abuse before the age of 18 and there are approximately 42 million adult survivors of child sexual abuse living in the U.S. alone. (Darkness 2 light)

PREVENTION

KEEPING YOUR CHILD SAFE

- Instill assertiveness, resiliency and empathy:
  - Assertiveness can help your child communicate effectively. Practice using assertive statements such as “no.”
  - Resiliency will help them recover from setbacks, adapt well to change, and keep going in the face of adversity. Practice coping skills, reinforce a positive self-image, and encourage goal setting.
  - Empathy is the ability to understand how others would feel. Connecting emotions to words can help your child communicate their feelings more effectively. When asking them about their day, ask them specific things that made them feel happy, sad, frustrated etc., then ask them what emotions they observed in others.
- Help your child identify a trusted adult in their home, school, and community that they can confide in incase of an emergency.
- Discuss the roles of adults such as teachers, coaches, etc. and clearly define physical/emotional boundaries.
- Behavioral changes are more common than actual verbal disclosures of abuse. Indicators of stress or trauma include depression, anxiety, withdraw from family, friends, normal activities, fear of certain places or people, loss of appetite, etc.
- Believe your child if they tell you that someone has made them feel uncomfortable. If your child acts up or shows distress when being left with a caretaker trust your instincts and your child's.
- Seek counseling if any abuse has occurred or attempted. Physical symptoms of abuse may heal but the emotional effects can last a lifetime.

TIPS FOR PARENTS

- Parenting can be difficult: seek social connections and support from other parents and practice stress management.
- Cool down before disciplining your child. If you find yourself becoming agitated, call family, a friend, or a neighbor for help.
- Show your child that conflicts can be settled without hitting and/or yelling. Children are the best imitators.
- Practice positive discipline techniques and understand the difference between discipline vs. punishment:
  - Discipline attacks the behavior and is used to teach and guide.
  - Punishment attacks the child and is used to shame and scare.

RECOGNIZE THE FORMS OF ABUSE

- Physical abuse: Any physical injury resulting in substantial harm to the child, or the genuine threat of substantial harm from physical injury to the child.
- Sexual abuse: Any sexual conduct harmful to a child's mental, emotional, or physical welfare as well as failure to make a reasonable effort to prevent sexual conduct with a child.
- Emotional abuse: A pattern of behavior that impairs a child's emotional development or sense of self-worth.
- Neglect: The failure to provide for a child's basic needs to sustain health and life of the child, excluding failure caused primarily by financial inability unless relief services have been offered and refused.
- Medical Neglect: A type of maltreatment caused by failure of the caregiver to provide for the appropriate health care of the child although financially able to do so, or offered financial or other resources to do so.
- Human Trafficking: The exploitation of child for the purpose of commercial sex or through force, fraud, or coercion for the purpose of forced labor.

LOCAL OFFICIALS

It is important to be aware of what role each entity plays in the fight against animal cruelty, abuse and neglect. From detainment to conviction, everyone has a role to play.

Officer

Detains individual and contacts DA to see if they will accept charges. If charges are accepted, arrest is made and officer books individual.

District Attorney (DA)

Analyze and gather evidence to determine whether or not there are grounds for prosecution. Gives approval for arrest.

Judge

Oversees court proceedings.

Magistrate

Determines if the individual will be released on bond or detained in jail.
